

PUTTING SOMETHING BACK!!

Friday, July 21, 1995, thirty invited guests and the captain and crew of the Pelican Princess departed Port Canaveral for the second placement of Reef Balls (Fish Condos) off of the Canaveral coastline.

Many, many thanks to Angela Nagel, owner of the party boat Pelican Princess, for the use of her vessel for the day. Angela for over 20 years has been one of the front runners in many of the reef building projects out of Port Canaveral. Though not one to take credit for many of the environmental changes that have taken place in our area, Angela is to be not only applauded for her many fine efforts, but also thanked for her recent, generous contribution to the Reef Ball Project.

When Angela was asked to help with this project, the answer from her was quick and to the point "You know I'll do anything that will aid in the rebuilding of our reefs." Angela donated the Pelican Princess, captain and crew for a full day in helping this, the newest and probably the best reef building project underway in eastern central Florida.

Thanks also to reporter Bob Grover and crew that covered this event for CBS affiliate Channel 6, from Orlando. The Reef Ball Project received an added boost because WCPX-TV had the time in their very busy schedule to help cover this event. Thanks to Bob and Channel 6!

Thanks again, Angela, Captain Dave and crew for the great assistance afforded to all onboard.

Thanks again, Angela, Captain Dave and crew for the great assistance afforded to all onboard.

Awaiting shore-off time on the morning of July 21.

Bob Grover, Channel 6, and his cameraman shooting a segment for the evening news as the Reef Balls are being unloaded. Bottom right is David Love, Merritt Island.

Bob Grover readies his equipment before boarding the Pelican Princess.

Another load of "fish condos" ready for deployment with two observers in the water.

